Saccone and Zimmer Head NSA Commission

John Saccone and David Zimmer were elected co-chairmen of the National Student Association's Campus Commission last week at a meeting of the commission in Howland Hall.

Saccone and Zimmer succeed Dan Greany who was chairman of the commission until he discontinued courses here this semester. Everett Matson was elected business manager; Joan Dudeck, secretary; and Benjamin Raubvogel, public relations director; increasing the commissions executive committee from six to seven members.

Campus Committees Formed

On this campus the NSA campus commission has formed a Purchase Card Committee, headed by John Saccone; a Human Relations and Educational Practices Committee, headed by Fred Cicalo; and an international projects committee headed by Benjamin Raubvogel.

One of the international projects sponsored by the NSA which might be of special interest to students is the "Summer Study, Travel, and Work Opportunities Abroad." Under this plan there are ten study tour and five workcamp opportunities offered to university students.

Students Conduct Tours

All tours sponsored by the NSA will be conducted by the students of the countries to be visited. Student guides will conduct all traveling and study groups, and accommodations will be in student dormitories, the homes of students, or in low-priced hotels where necessary; meals will be served in the messes or student cafeterias. In all cases, the travelling and study groups will be small, including from ten to twenty Americans.

Costs range from $460 on the Scandinavian tour, two months in Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Finland, and Holland, to $559 on the Tri-nation tour, two weeks each in Holland, England, France and one week free, and $618 on the North-

Rally, Open House For Building Fund To be Held Mar. 10

Reigh Carpenter, chairman of the Student Council's building fund committee, has announced that the rally and open house party for the building fund campaign workers will be held Thursday, March 10, at the Fones Stable. Through an error, The Scribe had previously reported that the meeting would be held March 5.

Working with Carpenter on the drive to raise $3,000 from the student body are Jackie Keefe, Betty Smith, Norma Kelly, James Gaffney, Thomas McGannon, Robert Donaldson and Edward Flynn.

Representatives of all the campus clubs, classes and organizations will be asked to attend the rally, the committee chairman stated. He also said that the University would foot the bill.

Motorist Crashes President's Office

President Halsey had an unexpected visitor last week when a car operated by John P. Vaglievelo of 94 Morris street almost crashed into his office in Fairfield hall.

Mr. Vaglievelo became ill and lost control of the car as he was driving along Fairfield avenue, it was reported. The car swerved up on the lawn and came to a halt against the front steps of the building in front of the window of President Halsey's office.

The wooden steps of the building and the front left fender of the car were slightly damaged.

Campus Productions to Present "Craig's Wife" This Saturday Night at the Klein

The Office of Campus Productions will present George Kelly's Pulitzer Prize-winning drama, "Craig's Wife," at the Klein Auditorium Sat., March 5, at 8:30 p. m.

The play, the second major production of the year, is a portrait of a woman who married for selfish security, who schemed and carefully planned an independence and authority over her husband, but who, in the end, found she had played a losing game. This tense and biting satire on human nature has been acclaimed by critics as one of the outstanding dramas of our modern theater.

Heading the cast is Nancy Fray as Mrs. Craig and Frank Driscoll as Mr. Craig. Members of the supporting cast are Lois McMellon as Miss Austin; Harriet Olanoff, Ethel Landreth; John F. Sheehan, Billy Birkmire; Mary Pirrello, Mrs. Harold; Patricia Kelly, Marie; Merilu Elliot, Mrs. Frazier; Boris C. Moskalenko, Joseph Catelle, Ulrich Von Ziegessar, Eugene Fredericks; and Harold Noyes, Harry.

Jalil Karam, junior at the University, represented the college recently at the United Nations Conference at Connecticut College for Women, New London.

Jalil, who came here from Lebanon, represented that country, and wore its former official costume, in the model assembly entitled "The United Nations in Action." He spoke at the human rights commission on the subject, "How to Safeguard and Promote Human Rights."

Greek, Palestinian, and other folk dances followed the conference.

Jalil has been in the United States for two and one half years. He attended the University of Scranton for one year before coming here in Sept., 1947.

Male Student Dons Girl's Clothes During Sorority Row Rush Week

A dozen sorority houses at the University of California learned today to their consternation the true identity of Mary Lou Ullrich. "She" is Walter Robert Ullrich, a 20 year old junior from San Diego.

Ullrich wanted to find out how the better half lived so he posed as Mary Lou Ullrich during rush week on Sorority row. That's the time the girls pick out prospective new members.

With the help of French heels, a borrowed new look dress, a head scarf—and strategically situated paddings—Ullrich counted these

Incidentally Speaking . . .

—By JIM DLUGOS

The co-editor of The Torch, the student newspaper of Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio, writes to inquire the circumstances and the origin of the quotation which appears weekly in the masthead of The Scribe. His letter and the answer to it follows.

To the Editor of The Scribe:

A copy of The October 12, 1948 Scribe has just come across the desk. While examining your publication, I was interested in the quotation you carried above your masthead:

"There are times when college administrations as well as other factions peculiar to a university campus need some talking to, and upon such occasions an alert, fearless, and vigorous press is a godsend to the student body."

I would like very much to know who was responsible for such a statement and the circumstances (if any) and when it was uttered. I think such a statement of policy should be used on every college paper.

Thank you for your assistance.

Bernard J. Hilbrink

P. S. Your football queen was quite impressive.

You flatter me; because although the idea for the quotation and the sentence structure used to convey that idea came from an editorial (about judges in courts of law) printed in the "Wheeling (W. Va.) News". I am the person actually responsible (as you put it) for the exact quotation of which you speak so highly.

The part of that particular editorial which led to the creation of what has since been termed The Scribe motto is as follows: "There are times when judges need some plain talking to, and upon such occasions an alert, fearless and vigorous press is a public godsend."

Why did The Scribe adopt it? Because the year that it first appeared on the masthead (1947-48) the University of Bridgeport had just grown into the third largest university in Connecticut. This, despite the fact that only a few short months before the same plant, then known as the Junior College of Connecticut, was one of the smallest institutions of higher education in New England.

Our Student Council, Student Council Advisory Committee, Inter-Dormitory Council, and the Inter-Fraternity Council were not as yet in existence. The University administration was itself, very loosely knit.

The only organized student group in a position to "straighten things out" was the President's Student Advisory Committee which met with the University president twice each month. Their attempts to confront and solve many problems facing the average student were very beneficial in some respects. But their voice was not powerful enough. Someone had to become the "watchdog" for the student body. When the Scribe was offered the opportunity; it accepted the challenge.

Its editorial pages were opened to anyone having anything to say. To stimulate letters to the editor a one dollar prize was awarded each week for the best letter submitted. Names of the authors were kept secret from all but the editor who first received the letter, if that was the wish of the author.

"Incidentally Speaking . . ." previously a column of news-notes was converted into short "two-bit editorials" in which I, as editor, made comments and observations about and offered solutions to the major problems facing the average student on the UB campus.

Like the doctor who hangs out his shingle to let the passers-by know that he has opened up practice in his home, so The Scribe wrote the quotation you write of into its masthead. It had become the "watchdog" for the students of the University of Bridgeport, and it wanted all to realize it, and to take advantage of the protection offered.

By The Light Of The Moon

by The Evening Staff

Do evening students want a gossip column? Should the evening school have its own gossip column?

The column's inception feature would be a poll, every week, of student's opinions on current aspects of evening school activities. Through this medium, students could air their views and compare opinions with their fellow classmates. As soon as a news channel is established, the column would be completed of news and gossip to heighten the interest of the students now attending evening sessions at both Fones and Fairfield campuses.

Fairfield Says No

However, when students at the Fairfield Ave. campus were polled, the general consensus of opinion was that they did not want a gossip column because it would consist of the same names and be dominated by cliques. Furthermore, these students would not agree to contribute news and items of gossip which would give a much broader coverage, and eliminate much of the danger of certain groups dominating the column. Unfortunately it is impossible to print the names and specific opinions of these students who were polled, because they refused to have their names or statements released for publication.

Fones, "Yes"

The opposite was found to be true at the Fones campus where the majority of students felt that more acquaintances would be made, and more easily, through a feature. Opinions of Fones evening students are listed below.

George Parrs: "It would make the students more interested in their school."

John MacGregor: "If you're an evening student, you prefer reading news."

James Seeley: "It would stir up interest of students in each other."

Marie Oros: "They'd really feel they were a part of the college."

Ellen Martin: "It'd be nice to know a little of the personal life of your classmates outside of class."

Paul C. Simons: "We'd be able to get better acquainted."

Catherine Gregory: "It would be a real point of interest to know what other students are doing."

They Should Be There

To the Editor of The Scribe:

I am a member of the freshman class in this University. Because of my class schedule I have been unable to attend any of the Student Council meetings. I have been wondering, though, what has occurred during these meetings, what issues which not only pertain to my class, but to the school in general, have been discussed. I have also wondered what my representatives have been doing and how they have voted.

I know from personal experience that neither I nor any of my classmates with whom I associate have ever in any way been polled as to their opinion on any matter which was ever discussed in Student Council meetings.

I feel that the minutes of all Student Council meetings should be posted somewhere in the school or that they should be mimeographed and be handed out to the student body.

I am sure that if a majority of the student body knows what is going on and sees how they are affected by the decisions of our Student Council they might take more of a personal attitude toward the election of our officers and toward our school in general.

DAVID HALPERN

Ed's Minutes of all student council meetings are supposed to be posted in buildings on both the Fairfield and Seaside campuses. Look for them, if you do not find any, write us again.

UB Swimmers Close Season With Loss

UB's swimming team ended a mediocre campaign when they dropped a 60-15 verdict to the Yale university mermen in the Payne Whitney pool. The lone spark in an otherwise dismal afternoon was the first place finish registered by UB's captain George Pappas in the 200-yard breaststroke. His time was 2:33.9.

Outside of this single event, the locals were able to gain only a pair of seconds and three thirds. Pappas notched one of the No. 2 finishes in the 220-yard freestyle, while Tony Lombard copped the other in the 100-yard freestyle.

Under the coaching of Ed Tamashunas, the Purple and White won half of their scheduled six meets. Their triumphs came at the expense of Brooklyn Poly, Manhattan College, and the New Haven YMCA. The trio of defeats were administered by Yale, the Bridgeport YMCA, and the Merchant Marine Academy.

Purple Knights, Fairfield Clash Friday

Both Teams Will Return to Armory Saturday Night

The University of Bridgeport basketball Purple Knights have a busy week-end coming up this week when they meet Fairfield University in a regional rivalry game Friday night and the following night face a strong Bergen College quintet from Teaneck, N. J. Both games will be played in the State Armory.

Enthusiasm is at fever pitch on both campuses over the return match between Coach Joe Dunne's Fairfield Redcoats, and the Purple Knights of the University of Bridgeport.

In the last meeting between the two teams, Bridgeport was nosed out in the last 45 seconds of play when Fairfield's Joe Miko and Joe Regensburger connected for two field goals to decide a 58-54 Fairfield victory.

Shooting Deciding Point

Although the Fairfield outfit was outscored on the floor, accurate foul shooting by Jesuit team was the deciding scoring point.

To attest the torrid pace set by the two regional rivals, the score changed hands 16 times throughout the contest, and saw four of Bridgeport's starting five leave the game via the personal foul route. Bridgeport was further handicapped when Co-Captain Cy Daly was benched most the second half, after accumulating four fouls in the first half.

In the following night's game, Bridgeport meets the Bergen College Indians of New Jersey for the second meeting this season. Coached by Dick Holub, former LIU cage star and currently high-scoring center of Paterson's American league, the Bergen outfit uses its six-foot-four center Jim Taveniere in the pivot spot where he scores consistently. In the Knight's first game with Bergen, Taveniere accounted for 25 points, twenty tossed in the first half. Bergen has an impressive season's record of 12 wins and four losses to date.

Parkwoods Take Dorm Net Title KBR, BA Tied for Greek Crowns

The Parkwoods captured the dormitory basketball title and Kappa Beta Rho and Beta Alpha moved to within one game of clinching the fraternity basketball and bowling crowns respectively during last week's intra-mural action.

Under the able direction of young Coach Tony Iannone, the winter's sports program will conclude with this week's contests. One week will be required for the dormitory bowling play-off before the "dorms and frats" begin ping-pong and volleyball tournaments.

Calvert Tops Park Hall

Sparked by the play of Beardsworth who accounted for 13 points, the Parkwoods eliminated their final rivals, Park Hall, 37-26, to win the pennant. Noble and Van Brunt had 10 markers each for the losers in the rough struggle that saw 40 personals called, 23 against Park.

Following this setback, Park dropped a decision to Calvert Hall leaving them second place in the standings. The first four finishers in the loop are Parkwoods, Calvert, Park, and Waldemere.

Kappa Beta Rho (record 8-0), probably the top team in both circuits, assured themselves of at least a tie for the flag in the "frat" basketball league. Victors over Alpha Delta Omega and the Seasideers, KBR now needs either a win over Alpha Gamma Phi in their final game or a Theta Sigma defeat to clinch the top-spot.

Sigma Phi Alpha was the only other two-game winner last week. SPA strengthened their hold on third place with triumphs over the Seasideers, 38-19, and the Faculty, 30-20. Madden notched 27 points in the two games.

Other Results

Other results were Faculty 53, Schemers 28 (Sherman scored 20 points in the final quarter for the winners); AGP 45, Seasideers 16

(Fiorello 16 points, Street 12, and Kornacki 11 led AGP); and ADO 4, Seasideers 34. In the latter encounter, the lack of time kept the teams from going into an overtime period to decide the issue. Bernston's hoop in the final two seconds for ADO deadlocked the tally. Leading scorers were Fallo of ADO, 15, and Terrell, Seasideers, 10.

There was very little action in either bowling league during the past seven days. Beta Alpha continues to hold their season long advantage over the remaining squads in the "Frat" loop. SPA wrestled the runner-up spot from ADO with a 3-0 shut-out over the latter crew, but otherwise the standings remain the same as last week.

Bowling Match Mar. 2

Park Hall and SPA "3" who completed their campaigns in a tie for the dormitory bowling championship are still awaiting the outcome of the March 2 match between the Schemers and Calvert Hall to decide whether it will be a two or three team play-off for the title. Should Calvert sweep their match they will move into a three-way tie with Park and SPA "3". However, they might encounter a bit of difficulty from the Schemers who set a new high team total mark of 517 pins registered against West Hall last week. The previous high was 501, also made by the Schemers.

Marina's "Haunted House" Party Is Howling Success

Cobwebs, horror masks, skeletons, blue lights, and spiders hanging from the ceiling created an "eerie" atmosphere at the Marina Hall dormitory party last Saturday evening.

Highlights of the evening were "eerie" sound effects featuring screaming women, uncompleted symphony's, chinese gongs, church bells, and unanswered phones; and a floor show written and directed by Maurice McDonald and Fred Mann. The starring skit was a typical day in a class of juvenile delinquents. The pupils of the class, Fred DeGiacomo, John Petropoulos, Fred Mann, James Kelly, Dave Schaeffer, Robert La Cava, Joseph Kinch, Maurice McDonald, and their instructor Howard Zimmerman all contributed to the humor of the program.

Steve LePage assisted by Joan Dudeck performed feats of magic, while Hans Helbig handled the musical side of the program. James Street, clad in a devil's costume, acted as master of ceremonies.

Nursing College Offers New Course

A new nursing course in Ward Administration, which may be credited toward a masters degree, will be offered at UB this spring and will be taught by Jean MacLean, R.N.

This course, which will be of particular interest and value to staff and head nurses and supervisors, will cover planning of nursing care, staffing, and student direction. Discussion of current practices, with application to problems as presented by the class, will be centered on administrative details related to all phases of ward management. Two semester hours credit will be given for the course.

Applications and information may be obtained from Dean Martha P. Jayne of the College of Nursing, in Bishop House.

Foneyville Follies

☆ BOB DONALDSON ☆ RAY CLARKE ☆

Mark Twain once made a sly quip about all of us complaining about the weather, but never doing anything about same . . . . Ol' Mark probably plagiarized the stuff from our ol' "artist" Stan Vlatēs but personally I think the guy has possibilities . . . . About the quip—one might say the same for UB's own Snack "non-profit" Bar . . . . I can hardly wait for my next check so I can eat in there again! . . . I wish they wouldn't import those gold-plated tuna fish sandwiches!

Offhand I can only mention about fifty speech classes that can hardly wait for Miss Clark's return . . . 'course now she's Mrs Johnson—honeymooning in Bermuda (that's like Bridgeport, only warmer, cleaner, gayer, and they ride bicycles).

I happily report that Joan Hutchinson, one of the girls' basketball team's big guns has recovered from her injury and may be seen by all, romping around UB halls. Seems ol' Joan came in too fast for a lay-up shot and jumped a bit too high . . . the YWCA now has an additional sky-light over the gym.

To all men, Type M (for married) Students: my deepest expression of sympathy, and—a short bit of news: If you're expecting to hear the patter of little Knudnicks about your trailer floor in the near future, contact Al Schaefer (one of the twins) who is starting some sort of club for such occasions . . . "you're all in this together, men!" Incidentall Al's wife is about to present him with a young offspring . . . do twins run in families, Al?

I'm afraid in the general rush one joker on our fair campus got more than slightly overlooked . . . (course looking at him in this column is probably the worst thing that could happen to a young, inspired lad)

Gridiron Week Committee Meets

Everett J. Matson, who was recently appointed chairman of the 1949-50 Gridiron Week celebration, has announced that an organizational meeting of his committee will be held Thursday, March 3, at Fones Hall.

It is expected that a representative from every club, organization and class on the UB campus will attend this meeting.

souvenirs of his foray into no man's land:

Seven return invitations to sororities.

Fourteen cups of tea and a dozen tiny sandwiches.

The telephone numbers of 27 co-eds and one house mother.

His tensest moment, he told fraternity brothers at the Kappa Alpha house, came when a house mother took him by the arm and vital equipment came adrift.

"I looked lopsided but everybody was too polite to say anything."—(AP).

. . . . I speak of Joe Lucskay, creator of our "Alma Mater" (even if you don't quite remember the words, it's a darn good song!) . . . anywho Joe's just had "Mavourneen" published. We used it in "Campus Thunder" last year, and it made a large size hit—here's hoping it does the same all over the country. Joe!

Someone casually mentioned a Bridge Club a while back, and about fifty people were all over him like a rainstorm . . . so now we have a Bridge Club—if you are interested in making passes drop in at the Stables some Friday P. M. . . . Reigh Carpenter is "lobbying" for the outfit.

"Did you know that" the lounge and study hall in Bishop House are not off limits to students? . . . drop in there any old time!

Tom McGannon, aside from playing bridge in the Stables, has been seen in one or two classes this semester.—R. C.
